JOURNAL PRACTICES

7. Publication Ethics and Related Editorial Policies

GEO DATA follows the Guideline on Good Publication of COPE (<https://publicationethics.org>).

Our publication ethics and related editorial policies are displayed on the Code of Ethics tab (<https://geodata.kr/policy/ethics.php>) and Editorial Policy tab (https://geodata.kr/policy/editorial_policy.php) and Instruction to Authors tab (<https://geodata.kr/authors/authors.php>) of the journal website.

The Editorial Board GEO DATA carefully examines whether all submitted manuscripts abide the ethical guidelines of COPE. The published articles should include the statements of disclosure of conflict of interest, funding information, and data availability statement.

When the journal faces suspected cases of research and publication misconduct such as a redundant (duplicate) publication, plagiarism, fabricated data, changes in authorship, undisclosed conflicts of interest, an ethical problem discovered with the submitted manuscript, a reviewer who has appropriated an author's idea or data, complaints against editors, and other issues, the resolving process will follow the flowchart provided by COPE (<https://publicationethics.org/resources/flowcharts>). The Editorial Board of GEO DATA will discuss the suspected cases and reach a decision. GEO DATA will not hesitate to publish erratum, corrigendum, clarification, retraction, and apology when needed.

8. Peer Review

GEO DATA has an online submission and peer review system at <https://www.editorialmanager.com/geodata/>. GEO DATA reviews all manuscripts received. A manuscript is first reviewed for its format and adherence to the aims and scope of the journal. If the manuscript meets these two criteria, it is dispatched to three investigators in the field with relevant knowledge.

GEO DATA adopts single-blind review, which means that only the reviewers are anonymous. Reviewers know the authors' names and backgrounds, but authors don't know those of the reviewers.

Assuming the manuscript is sent to reviewers, GEO DATA waits to receive opinions from at least two reviewers. In addition, if deemed necessary, a review of DATA may be requested. The acceptance criteria for all manuscripts are based on the quality and originality of the research and its scientific significance. Acceptance of the manuscript is decided based on the critiques and recommended decision of the reviewers.

An initial decision will normally be made within 4 weeks of receipt of a manuscript, and the reviewers' comments are sent to the corresponding author by e-mail. The corresponding author must indicate the alterations that have been made in response to the reviewers' comments item by item. If the revised version is not received within 90 days after requesting the author to revise the article without any special reason, the review may be terminated without publishing the article. A final decision on acceptance/rejection for publication is forwarded to the corresponding author from the editor.

All manuscripts from editors, employees, or members of the editorial board are processed same to other unsolicited manuscripts. During the review process, submitters will not engage in the decision process. Editors will not handle their own manuscripts although they are commissioned ones.

We neither guarantee the acceptance without review nor very short peer review times for unsolicited manuscripts. Commissioned manuscripts also reviewed before publication.

9. Access

GEO DATA is an open access journal. A free full-text service, both in XML and PDF formats, is available immediately upon publication without an embargo period.
